@MedEdChat T3: Prof societies need to advocate for young #MedEd educators to have support to pursue scholarship. Oftentimes, we get wrapped up in the teaching and don't have the time/support/know-how to publish & present.

@kcawcutt @GLBDallaghan @RJmdphilly @MedEdChat T2: #meded A professor told me in my library school - people come and ask you about a book on dogs, you need to find out which specific dog they are looking for. Your questions and lit searches may evolve over time - that is ok. You aren't asking us for favors, we LOVE to search

Tonight has been great! Demystifying #MedEd scholarship is the first (and sometimes the highest) hurdle I face when teaching the faculty in my Educational Research fellowship. I hope we have more chats like tonight! Thanks everyone!!

Yes! I just finished reviewing ~100 abstracts for the 2018 annual @AAMCMeetings, and it became clear that we all could use a little help to improve our submissions. And NONE of us are too senior to learn some new tricks of the #MedEd trade! #JGMEChat <https://t.co/d2l8gyByM5>
